REGULARGrand Jury at Work.*Bonds Filed by Those Under Indictment.*Court Determines Amount of Bail.*Several Charged With Different Offenses.*Defendants Not Indicted Have Been Released.

The regular Grand Jury for the October term of Court began its session Monday morning. It will, in addition to the ordinary run of cases, have considerable business left over by the special Grand Jury to consider.

The jury, as sworn, is composed of the following citizens: C. H. Allen, George Davis, Samuel Pierce, Grant Ganyard, Joseph Huggill, George A. Bisbee, Frank Webster, A. A. Kuder, W. W. Wetmore, Charles E. Kidney, Charles R. Savacool, A. E. Stewart, H. C. Upson, N. S. Porter and William Phillips.

In his charge to the jury Judge Kohler did not depart from the language given in the statutes. Special attention was not directed to any particular crime or offense. Before touching any of the riot cases, the jury will complete the investigation of the cases brought into court on transcripts from Mayor Young's court and those of other magistrates. The murder of Patrick Mullen, at Cuyahoga Falls, will receive attention.

BONDS FILED.

Bonds were filed Monday by the following who are charged with violating the law the night of the riot:

George Brodt, $500, signed by Chas. Isbell and J. R. Nutt.

James McNaughton, $500, signed by Irvin Waltz and James Hallinan.

William Averill, $1500, signed by Frank Averill and C. F. Averill.

Edward Eppley, $2500, signed by E. J. Viall and William Eppley.

Many others are ready to give bond and will do so at once.

FIXED AMOUNT OF BOND.

Judge J. A. Kohler has fixed the amount of bond that must be given by those now under indictment for alleged offenses connected with the riot.

Edward Eppley, Harvey Earl, Oliver Morgan, John Doe and Richard Roe, $2500.

William Averill, David Davis, Walter Wingerter, Arthur Sprague, Frank Sickles, William Henry, Fernando Kempf, Frank Bison, Howard McClellan, John Rhodes, Edward Henry, John Doe, Richard Roe, William De Witt and Guy Evans, $1500.

Vernando Kempf, Charles Timmerman, Sandy Coppard, Norman Ross, and David Spellman, $2000.

Henry Earl, Jr., Charles Bender, Oliver Morgan, Andrew Wilbur, William Hunt, George Brodt, James McNaughton, John Rhoden, Charles Fink, David Snyder, Cloyd Graham, Olaf Roos, John Lacey, John King, Frank Viall, Low Neigh, August Simonette, David Davis, Vernando Kempf, Fred Vorwerk, Charles Timmerman, David Spellman, Frank Wheeler, Joseph Higby, Howard McClellan, Frank Vinez, John Reilly, Walter Wingerter, Frank Sickles, William Crile, Arthur Sprague, Norman Breckenridge, Edward Eppley, Sandy Coppard, William Henry, Edward Henry, William Averill, Andrew Halter, and Frank Bison, $500.

It will be noticed that there is a repetition of names. This is the result of the fact that a number are indicted for several offenses and that they are required to give bond in each case.

CASES DISMISSED.

Cases ignored by the special Grand Jury were: State vs. John Wilbur; State vs. Nathaniel Watson; State vs. George Dewitt; State vs. George Rod-way; and State vs. Henry Earl. All these cases were dismissed Monday morning.

Runaway.

A livery horse which Messrs. Jacob Dettling and Charles Ott had hired Sunday in order to drive a few miles south of the city broke loose from the hitching post in front of Mr. Ott's home on South Main st., and ran away. The rig collided with another buggy driven by Mr. Ross Balliet, but fortunately no damage was done to the latter rig. A short distance further the buggy ran against a telephone pole and was badly broken. The horse was not injured.

POLICE COURT.Thirteen Cases Were on the Docket*At Monday Morning's Session—One Burglary Charge.

Monday's session of Police court was an unusually lengthy one, there being thirteen cases on the docket.

Henry Heckler, aged 21, was arrested by Prisonkeeper Washer, Saturday afternoon at 6 o'clock on a charge of burglary. It is alleged that Heckler is an accomplice of David Davis and Wm. DeWitt, and that the three were the persons who broke the plate glass window of the Standard Hardware store the night of the riot. Heckler pleaded guilty, and was bound over to Common Pleas court. The prisoner is a victim of epileptic fits, and he will probably be sent to the State hospital for treatment. His father signed his bond.

Frank Murray, Charles Mohart and Tom B. Toole were arrested Saturday evening by Officers Doerler and Kempf, charged with disorderly conduct. They pleaded guilty and were fined $5 and costs each.

James Peck pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting his wife. He was fined $5 and costs.

Henry Pool, charged with striking his daughter while in an intoxicated condition, pleaded not guilty. Evidence of witnesses was against him. Mayor Young sentenced him to 30 days in the works, but afterwards suspended sentence provided he would leave drink alone in the future.

Frank Weber, Jacob Sigler, Henry Sieber and Mike Bolan pleaded guilty to intoxication charges. They were fined $2 and costs each. Albert Smith and Wm. Drawing, also charged with intoxication, had their cases continued until Tuesday. When searched, Drawing had a revolver, a dirk knife, two razors and a watch in his possession.

DISAGREEINGHusband and Wife*Agreed on Decree In Their Divorce Case.*Large Sum Due the Cornell Estate.*Roy Long Paid Claim and Was Released.*An Action Against Administrator—Court House News.

A decree satisfactory to both parties, was filed Monday morning in Common Pleas court, in the case of Margaret vs. Daniel Noe.

This case was heard to Referee John F. Halderman several months ago. Both parties gave notice of appeal. The plaintiff claimed that alimony was not large enough. The defendant was not satisfied, asserting that his wife had been given much more than she was entitled to.

At a recent conference between the parties an agreement was reached. The plaintiff was granted a divorce on the grounds of extreme cruelty and gross neglect. Upon payment of $350 to the defendant she is given the title to all the property. She assumes the mortgages and all other incumbrances on the property.

LARGE AMOUNT INVOLVED.

The executors of the will of the late T. W. Cornell are the plaintiffs in an action commenced at Lima Saturday.

A special from that place says: Proceedings were commenced Saturday to have a receiver appointed for some of the remaining property of B. C. Faurot, at one time, Lima's wealthiest citizen. A short time ago his large opera house block and electric light company were sold under foreclosure.

The executors of the estate of the late T. W. Cornell of Akron, O., now bring suit for a receiver for some remaining property. "Cornell," it is alleged, loaned Faurot $81,400 ten years ago, and the principal and interest now reaches $112,448.

PAID HER CLAIM.

The action entitled the State, on relation of Emma Wagner, vs. Roy Long, has been settled by the defendant paying to the plaintiff $150 and all the costs incurred in commencing the case.

DIVORCE CASES.

The divorce case of David vs. Sarah J. Reeser has been referred to A. E. Kling.

Mary R. Cruise has been granted a divorce from Fred H. Cruise. She alleged gross neglect.

The divorce action of Cora M. vs. Charles E. Snyder has been dismissed.

NEW CASES.

Ida Bonewell has commenced an action against J. W. Harter, administrator of the estate of Benjamin Bonewell. She alleges that she is entitled to judgment for $180. She was the house-keeper for the deceased.

The Journal Company, of Ft. Wayne, is the plaintiff in an action against the N. Y. C. & St. L. and Erie railroad companies. It is alleged that the defendants damaged freight consigned to them for shipment by the plaintiff.

Henry Musser, executor vs. Anna Beck, is an appeal case from Probate court. It was brought for a sale of real estate.

OTHER PLEADINGS.

William H. Palmer, the defendant in a line fence action filed by Benjamin M. Poyer has filed an answer and cross petition. He alleges that he has had undisputed possession of the property claimed by the plaintiff for 25 years.

A demurrer to the petition of Carl Schoendube has been filed by the Akron Germania company. It is alleged that the plaintiff never asked reparation for the alleged damage occasioned by an article printed in the Germania and on which suit is brought.

NATURALIZED.

John Baggott, a native of England, has been granted naturalization papers. John Souers witness.

A Funny Couple.

The two colored cornet players advertising J. J. Brasaemle's 5c and 10c store, "The Big Store of Little Prices," during fair week, attracted much attention on the principal business streets, as well as the wagon driven by a costumed driver in all parts of the city.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. Michael Goldsmith, president of the Cleveland Bartender's union and chairman of the Executive Council of the Cleveland Central Labor Union. Mr. Goldsmith spoke of the good work being done through the organization of men employed in hotels, restaurants and behind the bar. He explained that closer and more friendly relations can be secured between the employer and employee, through organization, and that the individual's condition can be mutually benefited and uplifted if the cause of their profession is looked after and encouraged by a united and active organization. Her Startling Remark.

"I wish I were you star," he said dreamily.
 "So do I," she returned promptly, her face glowing with a smile.
 "And why, dear one?" he asked impulsively.
 "Because," she replied in cold, matter of fact tones, "because you brilliant orb is just 11,709,971 miles away."
 And he faded silently out like a mist before a summer sun.—London Answers.

Some Odd Names.

The most suggestive, and inviting name I saw was that of a druggist in North Dakota. It was U. R. Wolcome, his first name being Urias. Across the street was another man with a funny name. He bore the euphonious cognomen John Stonepounder. In the next town I found a man who was so fat that the name of Abraham Crumppacker seemed especially fitting. But there was a woman in the town who went him one better. Her name was Emily Freshbreath.

In the next town I got so interested in queer names that I soon heard of a speedy individual called Sarah Deerhoof. In that same town there is a man named Henry Bookstruck. Ever after that I was on the lookout. On the train I met David Newsalt and Millie Newlove. The man with the most warlike name I ran against was Abraham Saltpeper. In one town I found a man who had a very poetic name. It was Seabright Sunbloom. But the last name I struck finished me. It seemed like a direct command to cease my sacrilegious monkeying with people's names. I took it as a warning and quit. A. Quakfish. And what do you suppose his partner's name was? It was W. K. Goforth.—St. Paul Dispatch.

An Intelligent Censor.

No play may be publicly performed in England until it has been passed upon and agreed to by the stage censor. A certificate must be secured from the lord chamberlain. The lord chamberlain himself does not, of course, read all the plays submitted to him, but the work is passed on to the examiner of plays, who is not always a man of education or discretion and who in many cases has been suspected of letting things pass because managers have made it profitable to him to close his eyes to supposed faults.

The story is told of one of these examiners who was moved to strike out "drunk as a lord" in one of the plays submitted to him. There used to be an old rule that the word "heaven" should be substituted in stage lines, wherever the name of any of the persons of the Trinity came up. So this clever examiner changed the line to read "as drunk as a heaven."

The penalty for disobeying the examiner is a fine of $250, which may be levied on any person connected with the forbidden performance—callboy as well as star.

Real Gentleness.

An exchange gives this story of a pompous member of parliament who attended an agricultural show in Dublin. He arrived late and found himself on the outskirts of a huge crowd. Being anxious to obtain a good view for himself and a lady friend who accompanied him, and presuming that he was well known to the spectators, he tapped a burly coal porter on the shoulder and peremptorily demanded, "Make way there."

"Garn, who are you pushin'?" was the unexpected response.
 "Do you know who I am, sir?" cried the indignant M. P. "I am a representative of the people."
 "Yah," growled the porter, as he stood unmoved, "but we're the bloomin' people themselves."

Fooling the Youngsters.

Mrs. Grimes—How in the world do you get rid of all your stale bread? I have to throw lots of mine away.
 Mrs. Smarte—There is no need for you to do that. Why not do as I do? I just hide it away from the children.
 Mrs. Grimes—Hide it away from the children? What then?
 Mrs. Smarte—Then the children find it and eat up every morsel of it.—Boston Transcript.

His Repertory.

"What have you been playing during your present tour?"
 "We played 'Hamlet' and 'King Lear' on the stage," answered Mr. Stormington Barnes.
 "Were there no comedies in your repertory?"
 "Only one. When we came to count up the box office receipts, it was usually 'Much Ado About Nothing.'"—Washington Star.

When you unload your pocketbook in a good cause, you also remove a load from your conscience. You feel better, and so does every one concerned.—Denver News.
